November 25: A Diamond Anniversary Celebration

From the Chair:

Jean Lindsay

On November 25, 2017, we will have an evening of dancing at the Sala Caboto Ballroom to celebrate Toronto Association's 60th Anniversary by, of course, dancing!

Joining us, all the way from Scotland, will be RSCDS Chair-Elect Andrew Kellett, who will greet guests until we line up to follow the piper for the Grand March. Enjoy your evening, including the great dances on the programme. At the break, we'll be offered delicious hors d'oeuvres, coffee, tea, and dessert — and there'll be prizes. Then lots more dancing.

The Board is looking forward to everyone having a great evening of fun and friendship. More details are on the website.

The next day, November 26, from 2 to 5 p.m., the Association is hosting a free afternoon event, with Andrew Kellett. Look forward to tea, treats, and great conversation at Rosedale United Church at 159 Roxborough Drive. (Note: This is not our familiar Presbyterian church location.)

Please take the opportunity to ask Andrew questions and to hear about updates from RSCDS. Members of other branches and social groups affiliated with RSCDS in the Southern Great Lakes area have also been invited so come and mingle with our extended community of dancing friends.

I hope to see you at both events.

Warm regards,

"Life is not measured by the number of breaths we take, but by the number of moments that take our breath away."

A lot has happened in the 60 years since Miss Jean Milligan, co-founder of the Royal Scottish Country Dance Society, conferred "Branch" status upon the informal network of Scottish immigrants who gathered in various Toronto church halls and clubs to engage in the noble pastime of Scottish country dancing. Miss Milligan made 12 trips to Canada. She attended an annual ball at the Granite Club, the predecessor of the Tartan Ball. Miss M also taught a Toronto workshop for 275 people (picture at right).

Miss Milligan at Toronto Workshop

RSCDS Toronto is celebrating its 60th dance season, as are at least three of our social groups: Calvin (who just had their own party), Petronella, and the Rosedale Youth group.

The 60s and 70s were halcyon days, with a huge, very active membership. We did big things, such as performances at the CNE Grandstand. One year the Tartan Ball had to cut off ticket sales at 800 dancers! This is a problem Laurie McConachie is eager to cope with. Sala Caboto, while very beautiful, has a limited capacity so avoid disappointment and don't delay getting your tickets to the 60th Anniversary Dance.

Toronto Branch appeared, briefly, in the Guinness Book of World Records for the world's biggest Eightsome Reel (a 512-some). We were quickly overtaken but we made a noble counter-attempt at a 1024-some Reel (see below).

We still do big things. We are the second largest branch of the RSCDS and November 25 we shall celebrate our continuing heritage of dance fellowship with guest Andrew Kellett, RSCDS Chair-Elect.

26 Aug 1993 ~ MEMO TO GUINNESS: "...Toronto Branch of RSCDS were hosts to 960 Scottish country dancers...at the SkyDome in Toronto. We presented, on the field, a 12-minute SCD routine and came off...to the roar of the 19,000 spectators and quite proud of our accomplishment." ~ Esther M. Goodfellow, Toronto Branch Chair

Distinguished visitors from Scotland this November

Getting to know Andrew Kellett . . . Guest at the 60th Anniversary Dance

I started dancing at age 10 at a children's class in Bradford, Yorkshire. Why, I don't really know, but I was fascinated by Scottish history, the '45 and all that. So began a lifetime of fun, friendship, and a modest level of fitness.

That first class was a wonderful experience. Our teacher, Rhoda Shaw, gave us a fantastic grounding in the fundamentals of Scottish country dance and we learnt some Highland too. In our mid-teens some of us were recruited into the RSCDS Leeds demo team. I was lucky; friends would drive me to dances all over the north of England, and my knowledge of dancing and life gradually matured.

At St Andrews I had the experience of being taught by Miss Milligan. After university I moved to London. I was on London demo team taught by Bill Ireland. He taught me what a straight line really meant, and what it was to perform as opposed to just dancing well.

I met Wendy, who became my wife, and we had a wonderful time dancing in all manner of venues from iconic London sites in front of Royalty to back street halls with a handful of spectators. The occasion and the place never seemed to matter. The joy was in dancing with friends to the best of our ability to the accompaniment of some great music.

It could not last. The demands of careers and parenthood meant that we withdrew from the dem team. I took on various tasks for London Branch, but I was dancing less. As retirement loomed I decided to get back into it because I believe what we say about the health and well-being benefits of Scottish country dancing. It was a shock. My muscles ached, and I realised the repertoire had moved on in the last 10-15 years. I understood what it must be like for an adult taking to the dance floor for the first time.

After over fifty years of dancing and over forty years as a Society member I was elected Chairman Elect last November. It is a great privilege.

Some of the RSCDS "greats" have been there before me and I shall inherit an almost sacred trust of helping to guide the Society as we seek to maintain and grow this wonderful pastime of ours.

Thank you so much for inviting me to your 60th Anniversary celebrations.

I am really excited about the occasion, the chance to dance with you, and to make new friends. I am also very keen to hear what you have to say. Toronto is one of our largest branches, with a rich history. You have influence. How will you continue to succeed? What do you need from me, the Management Board and Committees and the staff at Coates Crescent, and, as importantly, what do you not want us to do? I look forward to finding out, to learning more about you and to sharing your special event. . . .Andrew Kellett

Andrew at the Society's AGM Ball

Getting to know Jim Stott. . . Lead teacher at the Workshop

I started dancing in 1965. In my career as a primary teacher, I taught dancing in schools and entered many teams into the Aberdeen Festival. I gained my Full Certificate in 1994.

I taught classes at all levels for Aberdeen Branch and did a term of office as Chair of the Branch.

I've been lucky enough to teach at many Day and Weekend Schools in Britain, Europe, Japan, and North America. I taught at the Australian Winter School in Perth and at our own RSCDS Winter School in Pitlochry, Scotland.

In 2005, I became one of the first Medal Assessors and then an adjudicator in 2007. In 2011 and 2012, I was Depute Director of Summer School and in 2013 I tutored Unit 5 at St Andrews. I have served on Youth Services, Education & Training, and was two years on the Management Board. I became Schools Director in 2015.

I enjoy teaching dancing and get great pleasure seeing Scottish country dancing continue to thrive all over the world. Last winter, I travelled to Kazan, Russia, to tutor six teacher candidates. This October I taught in Nova Scotia and had the opportunity to attend 5 concerts in the Cape Breton Celtic Colours Festival.

For 14 years I have taught at St Andrews Summer School and for the past two years it was my responsibility and privilege to run the Summer School — a fantastic opportunity to engage with dancers. This year we welcomed over 700 from 40 different countries. Several Torontonians, including three youth, came to St Andrews this summer. I'm eager to reconnect with my Toronto friends, and to make new friends at the November Workshop.

In my life outside of dancing I enjoy painting very much, in both oils and watercolour. My other great love is playing piano, especially with my local music group, the Ythan Fiddlers. We have a rally every year in May, and we've been lucky enough to play gigs in Nova Scotia, North and South Uist, and Orkney.

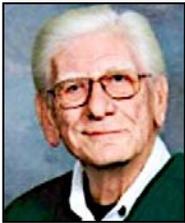

I've been promised better fish & chips in Toronto than can be had in Scotland. That's a cheeky challenge that must be addressed!

#97 What's in a Name? Lady Peak's Strathspey

Barry Pipes

I am sure that many of you realize that numerous Scottish country dances exist that refer to Lady something or other. It has been my pleasure to cover a few of these British female aristocrats over the past decade or so. But Lady Peak? This is a new one for me. For a brief while I wondered if it might perhaps refer to a Lady of the Peak.

How so? Well, I hail from the English county of Derbyshire, a large portion of which lies within the Peak District. This is in reference to a range of small mountains called the Pennines. By far the most celebrated of British lady aristocrats within the Peak District has been the Duchess of Devonshire, née Deborah Mitford. Debo, as she was called not only by her family but also by the Queen, was one of the six infamous Mitford sisters. Infamous? I can only suggest you look them up. As a Duchess, Debo lived with the Duke at an imposing manor called Chatsworth House in the Peak District, and as a member of Britain's Youth Hostel Association in my youth, I spent many delightful weekends either cycling or hiking (nowadays known as rambling) throughout the Peak, including visits to Chatsworth where one was quite likely to meet the Duchess somewhere in the grounds.

Now, was Deborah Cavendish, née Mitford, Duchess of Devonshire, the Lady of the Peak? Or, Lady Peak as named in the dance? She died in 2014 at the age of 94, and I cannot confirm any hopes of tying her by name to the aforementioned strathspey. So, will you please excuse me for what has turned out to be rambling preamble. Back to the drawing board!

Duchess Debo

Lady Peak, in the Cheam Range of the Cascades near Chilliwack, BC.

I checked on the devisor of Lady Peak's Strathspey, a lovely dance, and I should not have been surprised to find the devisor was the iconic John Drewry. Further research led me to British Columbia where, believe it or not, there exists in the Cheam Range of the Canadian Cascades, a 7000 ft mountain called Lady Peak. Locationwise, it's just a little east of Chilliwack and it's well known for its hiking trails. It would not surprise me therefore to learn that, at some point in the 90s, John Drewry made his way out to Vancouver, and being a known Rambler, found his way to Lady Peak. The dance was published in 1998 and featured in John's Greenburn Book series. Perhaps John's presence in B.C. at that time can be confirmed by someone at RSCDS Vancouver.

As has been written many times previously, John was born in the English town of Melton Mowbray in Leicestershire, better known for delectable pork pies than for any connection to SCD. Later in life, Drewry became an academic at Aberdeen University in the field of biochemistry and, after having devised over 800 Scottish country dances, he died in 2014 at the age of 90. Set & Link, published a lead story on his life in its February 2009 edition [www.dancescottish.ca/archives-set%26link.html]. It was written by veteran Thornhill dancer, Ross Floyd. Ross and his wife, Dorothy, continue to dance with the Newtonbrook, Petronella, and Richmond Hill social groups.

I cannot recall having seen Lady Peak's Strathspey on any recent RSCDS Toronto dance programmes, but those dancers who travelled recently to RSCDS Kingston for its annual workshop and dance, will have enjoyed working their way through John's lovely formations in Lady Peak's Strathspey, celebrating his likely presence on the mountain in B.C. at some point in the past.

George Will: Dance Devisor ~ Elusive nae more

Pursuant to Barry Pipes' What's in a Name? (Set & Link, Sept. 2017), I have been able to unveil some of the mystery about George Will. Thank you to the following sources for their timely replies to my requests: Simon Scott, Ruth Jappy, and Phyllis Will, Vancouver; Georgina Finlay and Jean Noble, Toronto; Irene Paterson, TAC; Mike Brunnock, Toronto Irish Choral Society; Mike Greenwood and Julia Parr, 12 Coates Crescent . . . D.E.H.

George Will

George Will and his wife Phyllis lived in Don Mills, Ontario, before being transferred to Vancouver in 1974 by his employer, First City Trust. Born in Bridge of Earn, Scotland, George was an accomplished dancer even as a boy. When he lived in Vancouver, he became a certified SCD teacher, on August 18, 1978.

George was a well-rounded musician. As a pianist, he could play any type of music either by ear or by reading sheet music. He played in the Schiehallion Band in British Columbia. He and Maureen Collins played piano together, accompanied by Alex Jappy on accordion, and Freddy Collins on percussion. As an organist, George played for several churches in Toronto and Scarborough and later for two United Churches in Vancouver and St. Joseph the Worker, in Richmond.

In Toronto, he occasionally played piano for the Toronto Irish Choral Society's rehearsals at Neil McNeil High School on Victoria Park Avenue. Mike Brunnock, treasurer and attendance keeper of the TICS, said "George was a faithful bass chorister for five years".

George was a most talented member of the Vancouver Branch of the RSCDS as a dancer, musician, teacher, and dance devisor. Even while very ill in 1991, he still shared in teaching and organizing the Teacher Candidate examinations in Vancouver in March 1991. George died November 6, 1991.

Among his numerous compositions were Bonnie Ina Campbell [Ina was his mother]; The Cooper's Wife, and The Craigellachie Reel, which was danced at Teresa Lockhart's Canada 150 Red & White dance party on June 24, 2017. His skills and personality were shared and enjoyed by many Vancouver dancers as well as dancers in other parts of North America where he was in great demand as a teacher at workshops, including Toronto. Georgina Finlay recalls his advice in his broad Scottish accent to dancers who did not always know where to go: "Stond still and let others dance about ya".

Dear Editor...

RE: The Craigellachie Reel and George Will

When Barry Pipes wrote about George Will, devisor of The Craigellachie Reel, it reminded me of a story about George.

My story relates to the first Teachers' Workshop John and I attended after having passed the RSCDS Preliminary Certificate in 1989. We were, understandably, very nervous to be in a big circle and realize that people on the other side of it were the likes of Bob Blackie and Georgina Finlay, legends we had encountered in our beginner days.

One of the two teachers for this workshop was George Will, SCD teacher from Vancouver, who at that time was making an easy living for himself playing church organs for massive Japanese "destination" weddings in B.C. George endeared himself to me very quickly when we had all been mixed up and then put into sets. My partner was older and never once made eye contact with me, which threw me off badly because we had been repeatedly taught, "LOOK at your partner!"

The dance was Bonnie Ina Campbell. It had been devised by George in response to a complaint from his mother that he had never written a dance for her. (Since it seems that George had run away from home at 14 to escape his mother, this is not surprising.)

The dance eventually was published by the RSCDS as a strathspey but on that fateful day George was teaching it as a reel.

By the time it ended, I was quite mortified but felt vindicated when George, hands folded on his chest and glowering, asked, "Who would like to tell on a partner who never looked at them?"

I never forgot this kindly recognition of a new teacher being let down by an old timer. George Will's untimely death was a loss to Scottish country dancers everywhere.

Volunteer Awards: I nominate...

Our many RSCDS Toronto activities and social groups would not exist without the many volunteers who toil quietly behind the scenes. Honour those people.

Nominate someone for a Volunteer Award to show your gratitude for extensive and exceptional unpaid service. Nominations may be made by the Board or by individual RSCDS Toronto members. NOTE: This year we are ensuring that at least one recipient is someone nominated from a social group. The Nomination Form, criteria, and a list of previous recipients (and citations) are on the Members' Home page, under VIPs. Deadline for submissions is February 28, 2018.

The premiere outing of our new feather banner:
Our greeters on the street: Susan Heximer, Wayne Fraser, and Rosalind Gilbert. The sound of Ellen Mole's pipes also drew in visitors – particularly a family who thought the event was at Eastminster across the street!

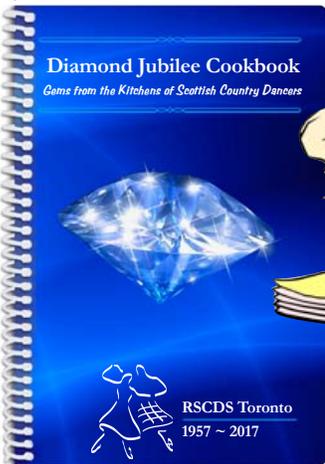

VIDEO:

Culture Days on the Danforth was a roaring success.

Our team on the street pulled in unsuspecting passers-by and many stayed all afternoon. Keith and Deirdre Bark led the ceilidh, and some familiar country dances such as The Dhoon, and a great time was had by all. Everyone left with info about adult beginner classes and classes for youth. A noble effort at a similar event in Richmond Hill was doomed by the obscurity of the venue.

The new cookbook will be at the Workshop: Let's get cooking!

The new 60th anniversary Diamond Jubilee Cookbook has 200 wonderful Gems from the Kitchens of Scottish Country Dancers — recipes from some of my favourite cooks. It has exotica such as SNAFFLES MOUSSE and BRAW CARROTOCCOLI SOUP; comfort food such as RUMBLEDETHUMPS and NANCY PEASE'S SCOTTIE TARTS; and tasty main dishes such as TANGY OCTOBERFEST ROAST and OLD-TIME BEEF STEW. There are tempting desserts and interesting salads too.

If you pre-ordered a book, get it at the Workshop; or buy one there. The cost is $10 each.

You can also get an ebook version ($10 each) — great for the cottage, or travel, or simply decluttering. We did not reprint the 50th cookbook, A Golden Feast, but we might if there is sufficient demand (contact Theresa M.). However, you can request an ebook version of the 50th cookbook. It has some wonderful recipes such as: DEIRDRE'S TABLET, MARGARET'S EMPIRE

BISCUITS, MARIAN'S RHUBARB DREAM, and RODDY NICOLL'S SHORTBREAD.

Arlene Koteff won the name-the-cookbook contest. She graciously donated her winning cookbook to be won by some lucky dancer at the November Tea Dance that follows the workshop.

Scottish Step Lessons

Alma Smith is offering a series of three Scottish Step Classes at Rosedale Presbyterian Church.
Nov. 18, 25 and Dec. 2 ~ noon to 1:15 p.m.

Scottish Step Dance is a hybrid, with elements of both Highland and Scottish country dance. The genre originated in 19th century Scotland, typically taught to ladies by ballet masters, hence the name "Ladies' Step". However, men can give it a go as well and some excel, thus Scottish Step is the preferred term.

These classes are an intro to Scottish Step. It's possible more classes will be offered in the Winter Term. Sign up for all three classes for $25 or pay $10 per class.

Don Bartlett played for Calvin's 60th

60 years to the day since Calvin first danced, the Calvin social group hosted a dance party with over 60 people attending. Don Bartlett played great music, some dance legends who no longer take the floor came for a visit, and a wonderful array of savouries and sweets was enjoyed.

October Monthly Dance

It was a dark and stormy night for the October 14 Monthly Dance at Crescent School but 93 enthusiastic dancers came, some from far away Peterborough and London. Don Bartlett and the band played wonderful music. The 4th dance, Sueno's Stone, had a surprise ending: with a great PHFFFT sound the lights went out; the music stopped; and someone shouted We've Nae Electric! (or should have). The entire posh Bridal Path/Post Road neighbourhood had gone dark.

We waited. . . and chatted in the gloom of emergency lights. But they have a limited lifespan, and dancing in near mirk would be more like roller derby — besides, the band couldn't play. Evacuation was ordered (and a blackout procedural standard will be developed).

The bad news: Costs must still be met (the band; the rent).

The good news: At the December dance we will get a $2 discount.

The good luck: Moira Korus won $87 in the 50/50 draw.

The Family Ceilidh

More than fifty people came out – despite the rain – for a great afternoon. On October 28th, children and adults gathered for our Family Ceilidh at St Leonard’s Church. There was lots of fun and laughter as we learned new dances and made new friends. A number of the dances were Halloween themed, including my favourite Halloween dance, Tam O’Shanter. I got to brief that one and tell the story as we walked it through. The Ceilidh was designed to be enjoyed by everyone, and it was great to see kids as young as three out on the dance floor with their parents. The Rosedale Children’s Group impressed everyone with two beautiful demonstrations — The Cell Phone Jig by the intermediate class and The Orcadian Medley by the seniors. By the end, everyone was well ready for pizza and the many desserts that people had brought. Thanks to the Toronto Association for making this possible, I hope the tradition of Family Ceilidhs continues.

Haggis gains legal and language status

L'Office québécois de la langue française officially recognizes "haggis". The great chieftain o' the puddin' race has been granted status. Apart from the difficulty of coining a concise French term encompassing the mostly "please-don't-tell-me" ingredients of the Scottish national dish, the OQLF states such words "refer to a reality that is representative of one of the anglo-saxon (sic) linguistic communities."

Coincidentally... The BBC reports: Scotland is to start exporting haggis to Canada for the first time in 46 years. Canada lifted a ban on imports of red meat from Europe in 2015 but still does not allow imports of offal. This has led Scottish haggis producers to create new haggis recipes to meet Canadian regulations.

Grace Notes

Wes Clindinning
3 November 1933 - 10 September 2017
 Irish-born Wesley (Wes) Clindinning was a man of many talents – a Highland dancer for the Toronto Scottish Regiment, a prolific deviser of Scottish country dances, a dance teacher and tutor for potential teacher candidates, and a guest teacher at workshops throughout North America and overseas. He was Chairman of the Teachers' Association (Canada) from 1982 to 1984, during which period he hosted the Silver Jubilee Teachers' AGM Weekend, with the late Anna Holden as Guest Teacher. Wes also established the Silver Jubilee Scholarship Fund, now known as the Jubilee Scholarship Fund, which continues to assist candidates to attend Candidate Classes at TAC Summer School.

Wes, together with Doug Stephen and Jess Bryden, established the West End Workshop, which continues to draw enthusiastic beginner and experienced dancers, to enjoy the teaching of well-known, in-demand teachers from the UK, USA, and local areas. Wes was also on a committee of West End teachers who established the still-popular West Toronto Ball, a semi-formal event primarily for new dancers, held every May, with a programme suited to their level of experience.

On a personal note, Wes encouraged me to become a certificated teacher (1979/1980). He allowed me to practise my skills with his beginners, in the first portion of his regular class, which he established in 1972 in Erin Mills. In September 1981, after a separate beginner class with Doug Stephen had been started, Wes left the teaching of the Friday Class to me, but he and Brenda still supported the group by attending regular coffee nights and other special events until they moved to Vancouver Island around 1998 following his retirement. Out west, Wes continued teaching SCD for several years, locally and on nearby Gabriola Island. In September 2012, Erin Mills celebrated its 40th Anniversary with a special dance, and Sharon, Wes's youngest daughter, was Guest of Honour.

Wes loved the music of the dance (a favourite tune was Belladrum House) and he invited musicians to play for classes and special functions whenever possible. Stan Hamilton, Ron Gonella, Ian Powrie, Donald Bartlett, and Fred Moyes all come to mind. He encouraged new teachers, (Keith Bark, Barbara Taylor), and was known world-wide as an excellent exponent of Scottish country dance.

Wes will be remembered for many things, including his sense of humour and his enjoyment of travel and social gatherings. Our thoughts are with Brenda and their three daughters, all of whom shared his love and dedication to spreading the joy of Scottish country dancing.

John Prentice
1927 - 20 June 2017
 John passed away just short of his 90th birthday. During his career, John owned and operated Heritage Yarns in St Jacobs, now operating as A Touch of Scotland. He was proud to pass on the family business to his granddaughter Kelly.

John and Catherine were both very involved in Scottish country dancing; Catherine was an instructor for 50 years. Our sympathy is extended to Catherine and her family.

Jean Campbell
27 December 1939 - 29 August 2017
 Jean was a Scottish country dancer since childhood in Glasgow. She came to Canada in the 1960s. She danced at Calvin for 20 years, a beloved member.

We will miss "Wee Jean," her laugh and smiling face, her generous spirit.

Family and friends celebrated her life on Sept. 3rd and shared memories of her. Sincere condolences to Jean's family from her fellow Calvin dancers and all her RSCDS friends.

Mary Ramsay
18 July 1926 - 15 September 2017
 Mary, and her late husband, Bill, came from Aberdeen. They danced with St Andrew's of Brampton since the 1970s, participated in Brampton celebrations of Canada Day, and were constant attendees at the West Toronto Ball.

Mary was a nurse and after her retirement she volunteered with the Red Cross for its annual blood drive.

Our sympathy is extended to Mary's family.

Virginia Booker
1940 - 20 September 2017
 Virginia danced in Toronto with Hillcrest, Scarborough, and occasional other groups. She also danced in Orillia. Virginia loved to attend Christmas dances and formal balls.

She was a lifelong figure skating enthusiast, participating as a member at the University Skating Club for many years and attending many World Championships and international events.

Our condolences to her family.
