

Join a world of friendly, supportive people

You will make new friends, perhaps visit exotic places to dance Scottish. Scottish country dance is social dancing – everyone is welcome. Worldwide, about 300 groups are affiliated with the Royal Scottish Country Dance Society, based in Edinburgh. Queen Elizabeth is our Patron.

RSCDS Toronto is a non-profit cultural association affiliated with the Society. We've been dancing Scottish in Toronto since 1957.

Do I have to be Scottish? No, just cheerful – and fit!

You need to be a “people person” not a Scottish person.

Many dances are ancient, with fascinating historical associations. Many dances are new, with interesting and sometimes challenging formations. The dancing is vigorous; the music infectious: lively jigs, hi-octane reels, and stately strathspeys. RSCDS Toronto offers multiple classes, with fully certificated teachers. Beginner classes start each fall, and after New Year. Classes prepare you to attend monthly dances and other events, with wonderful live music.
